SOUVENIR SHELL KILLS 8 CHILDREN

Police Search Watertown,
N. Y., for Missiles—Bodies
Blown to Pieces.

By the Associated Press.
WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 13.—Police are searching this city for artillery shells retained as souvenirs of the world war, after the explosion of a three-inch shell, resulting in the death of eight children. The big shell, believed to be a "dud" picked up during the war-time target practice of the 10th Field Artillery on the Pine Plains range, near here, was used as a scorecard check on the rear porch of the Edward G. Workman house. In the intense heat, the TNT charge exploded, according to Madison barracks military officials, making the shell liable to explosion at reduced concussion. It is believed that one of the children, playing croquet, struck the shell with a mallet or ball. The dead are: Maurice Saxbury, sixteen; Francis Wiley, thirteen; Vivian Jones, twelve; Olin Brown, eleven; Anson Workman, thirteen; Edna Workman, fourteen; Sarah Eaden, thirteen, and Donald Horton, twelve, of Pulaski, N. Y., guest of young Brown. Carpenters working nearby said they heard the children laughing at their game, and then a terrific explosion. Rushing to the Workman yard, they found the bodies badly mangled, croquet balls and mallets blown to bits. The concrete wall of the Workman home crumbled to powder, and a gray pall of concrete dust settling over all. Fragments of clothing and flesh were suspended from trees and house eaves for yards around, and two automobiles, three placed near the shell on the rear porch, were found on a roof 200 feet away. One of the first physicians at the scene was Dr. F. W. Jones. Lifting a covering which had been placed over one of the forms, he recognized the body of his twelve-year-old daughter Vivian, by means of an adhesive dressing he had placed on a cut on her leg barely a half hour before. He did not know his daughter was in the group and was almost overcome with grief. The bodies of the children were found apparently at places near where they had been standing in their croquet game. Near them lay fragments of the croquet mallets. Several of the balls used in the game were blown to bits, and the wickets were torn from the ground.

ACQUIT MOSLEM LEADER.

Indian High Court Frees Mohani
on War-Instigating Charge.

AHMEDABAD, British India, July 12.—Hadrat Mohani, president of the All-India Moslem League, has been acquitted by the high court on a charge of instigating war.

Mohani was sentenced to two years' imprisonment on May 4 for sedition after the judge had refused to accept a unanimous verdict of not guilty rendered by a jury which included five Indians. In a speech before the All-India Moslem League last December he was declared to have advocated guerrilla warfare to bring about the establishment of a republic which would be called the United States of India.

MRS. PETER C. HEWITT WEDS BARON D'ERLANGER

Widow of Electrical Inventor Said to Have Jilted Persian Shah
Seventeen Times.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 13.—Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, formerly Marion Andrews Bruguiere, widow of the electrical inventor, was married yesterday to Baron Robert D'Erlanger at St. Roch's Church. The ceremony was performed by Abbe Magin, secretary to Cardinal Dubois.

The bridegroom belongs to the English family of Sildell D'Erlanger. It was only a few days ago that cable dispatches from Paris bore a rumor that Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt had turned down seventeen proposals of the Shah of Persia that she share his throne. And so dispatches telling of her quiet marriage in Paris to Baron Robert D'Erlanger gave a little thrill to New York society, in which the widow of the electrical inventor is well known.

She is the daughter of the late T. A. Andrews of Virginia. Her first husband was Peder Bruguiere, son of Emil Bruguiere of Newport. After her divorce from him she was married to Stewart Deming, but this second marriage lasted only a short time, and she left for Europe. On her return she resumed the name of Mrs. Marion J. Bruguiere. In 1918 she became the second wife of Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor of the mercury arc lamp and many other electrical devices, who had been divorced from his first wife, the former Alice Work. The inventor died in Paris last August, following an operation.

BRITISH MAY PAY WAR DEBT ON GEDDES' RETURN

Ambassador to Bring English
Treasury Experts With Him
When Vacation Ends.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 13.—Private advice received by local bankers indicate that Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, would return to this country with experts of the British treasury, prepared to discuss plans for the liquidation of the British war debt to the United States. Ambassador Geddes is now in London on a vacation. Gold bars valued at approximately $10,000,000 have been shipped from London within the last two weeks to J. P. Morgan & Co., presumably to be used as part payment of the $125,000,000 interest on the British war debt, due October 1. No definite advice as to the ultimate disposition of the proceeds of the sale of this gold has been received by the Morgan firm, which has credited it to the account of the British treasury and has been told to hold it for instructions later.
